College conclave on NEP

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
SILIGURI, 9 SEPTEMBER

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell of the Surya Sen Mahavidyalaya organised an online meeting, 'National Conclave on New Educational Policy:2020 and Higher Education-Envisioning the Future,' on 2 September, which focused on the impact of the policy on the higher education system in the country.

Debkumar Mukherjee, Vice-Chancellor of the Cooch Behar Panchanan Barma University, Dilip Kumar Sarkar, Registrar of the University of North Bengal, George Thatadhil, Principal Salesian College (Siliguri and Sonada), and Amitav Mishra, Professor of the Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU) New Delhi, attended the meeting as resource persons.

In her opening remarks, Bablee Mandal, assistant professor of Chemistry and member of the IQAC, said the webinar was part of a year-long initiative to organise debate and discussion on critical academic and social issues. PK Mishra, the Principal of Surya Sen College, said the conclave explored the nuances of such an important policy.

Debkumar Mukherjee argued that increasing the Gross Enrollment Ratio from the present 26.3% to 50% by 2035, as proposed in the policy, will be a challenging task for the government as it demands a huge leap in expenditure for the higher education sector. Dilip Kumar Sarkar expressed concerns on the policy's overall tilt towards centralization and felt that the provision of autonomy of colleges without state control will lead to an increase in fees. Fr Thatadhil, on the other hand, argued that the policy was silent on the socially marginalized student community and the challenges they face.

All the speakers, however, welcomed the provisions of creating multiple exit-points in a four-year undergraduate programme or the policy's focus to research and academics in a scientific manner.
