PARLIAMENT OF INDIA

Course Objective:

Parliament plays an important role in ensuring good governance and participatory democracy. It is actively engaged in the development and implementation of laws, policies, and practices. It also acts as a representative so that citizens and other stakeholders have a voice at the national level. Parliamentary process is what occurs in parliamentary bodies. It is a collection of rules, regulations, customs and ethics that govern meetings and operations of various organizations. Good parliamentary process aids in implementing sound principles of democracy. It helps in organising communication while providing a platform for a healthy discussion in which each representative is given a fair chance of expressing one's opinion. The end objective of implementing the parliamentary process is to reach the most appropriate decision in an orderly and fair manner. Thus, through this course an attempt has been made to acquaint the student broadly with the legislative India at various levels, introduce them to the requirements of peoples' representatives and provide elementary skills to be part of a legislative support team and expose them to real life legislative work. It will also deepen their understanding and appreciation of the political process and indicate the possibilities of making it work for democracy.

Course Outcome:

Parliament of India plays a significant role to secure democratic aspiration of her people. Hence, it is quite obvious that through this course students will be able to learn the degree of importance of parliament in public sector administration and reform policies. They will also be able to gain knowledge of how to actively engage themselves in the development and implementations of laws, policies and practices. Students can also learn the parliament proceedings i.e. how the rules, regulations, customs and ethics that govern the meetings and operations of various organizations. The knowledge gained through this course will enable the students to play a pivotal role in ensuring fair and orderly decision making. Further, it will help them to understand the powers and authority of the Parliament to supervise the functions and administration of the country and to align the policies and procedures as per parliamentary guidelines.
