P OST-GRADUATE ROGRAM 2024-2025

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL
DR P K MISHRA

I am delighted to announce the commencement of postgraduate courses in Bengali, English, History, and Political Science at Surya Sen Mahavidyalaya from the 2024-25 session. These courses, approved by North Bengal University (NBU), mark a significant milestone for our institution as we become the only college in the region to offer masters' degree programs in four such diverse and pivotal subjects.

Our college is equipped with a team of highly experienced faculty members who are dedicated to providing quality education and fostering a culture of academic excellence. Additionally, our Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with various esteemed institutions will enable us to regularly invite distinguished scholars, enriching the academic experience for our students.

We have invested in robust infrastructure to support our postgraduate programs, including dedicated classrooms equipped with HD interactive panels, an extensive collection of books in both the main library and departmental seminar libraries, and subscriptions to a wide range of journals, both online and offline. Furthermore, we offer free NET coaching in each of these subjects, underscoring our commitment to the academic and professional success of our students.

Surya Sen Mahavidyalaya provides an environment conducive to research, encouraging students to delve deep into their chosen fields while equipping them with specialized knowledge that is essential for various vocations. Pursuing a postgraduate degree here will not only be an intellectually stimulating journey but also a stepping stone to a bright and successful future.

I extend my best wishes to all prospective students and look forward to welcoming you to our institution.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Political Science was established in 1998 with General Degree Course and the Honours Courses was introduced in 2003. The core emphasis of the department is on familiarizing students with the conceptual and applied essence of the discipline. Presently, the department has five faculties, one with both M.Phil and Ph.D, two faculties with PhD and another two with M. Phil. and M. A. Degree, having rich teaching experience as well as wide range of research interests and academic specializations.

The department has also one sanctioned support staff. Currently the department offers Political Science Honours in CBCS mode and Political Science Major under Four Years Undergraduate Programme (FYUGP). The Post Graduate Course has been approved by the University of North Bengal from the academic session 2024-2025. The members of the faculty use the pedagogy which involves innovative teaching methods to make learning more pragmatic. This involves the use of discussions and debates, movie screenings. Project presentations on contemporary political themes involving original thinking and relevant research are an integral part of learning. Value addition to the courses is also done through invited talks, seminars and webinars. Wall magazine is a good medium of experiential learning and are used as a method to discuss important political issues. Field visits aid the teaching-learning process. It is also important to note that the department is actively engaged in the teaching-learning process using technologies like Google Classroom, e-Ngage portal etc. since the Pandemic.

The department's ICT-enabled classroom class room has been named as KAUTILYA CORNER in recognition to the renowned ancient Indian political thinker, Kautilya. This space serves as a platform for integrating ancient Indian knowledge systems with modern technological tools, fostering a dynamic learning environment and allowing here interactive learning experiences and engaging discussions. The department has dedicated its office room as M. N. Roy Conclave to honour the legacy of Manabendra Nath Roy, an Indian revolutionary, political theorist, and philosopher, whose ideas on political and social reform have had a lasting impact on India's intellectual tradition.
